Freefall

by Kristen Heitzmann

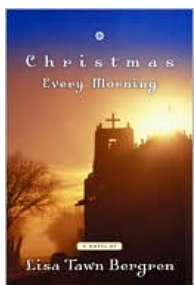

When a young woman stumbles out of the Hanalei Mountains on the island of Kauai with no memory of who she is, Monica Pierce knows she's been brought there by God. Her brother, Cameron, reluctantly agrees to investigate the mysterious circumstances surrounding the stranger's arrival. He suspects her injuries were no accident, but he's far from convinced she's an innocent victim. And there's the nagging feeling he's seen her somewhere before.....

Now known as Jade, the woman begins to recall fragments of what led her to this place. Cameron believes the danger isn't over, but she just wants to recover what she's lost. Jade and the cynical investigator attempt to reconstruct the threads of her identity, but the stakes are higher than either expected.

Christmas Every Morning

by Lisa Tawn Bergren

Two Lost Souls. In Colorado, history professor Krista Mueller awaits news of her mother's death. It has been more than a decade since Alzheimer's disease first claimed a part of Charlotte Mueller's mind and memories. But Krista cannot forget the pain of her childhood. Nor can she face the dying woman who has--despite Krista's desperate attempts to gain her love--always been far beyond her daughters' reach.

One Last Chance to Be Found. Then a call from New Mexico launches Krista on a dramatic journey of discovery--a journey that helps her begin to finally understand her estranged mother and allow the lost love of her youth back into her life. But Krista struggles to seize her final opportunity for forgiveness--and love--even when she knows that such a step is not for her mother's sake and longer but for her own.

A story of joy and loss, connection and forgiveness. Christmas Every Morning presents each day as a gift to be opened and every loved one as a treasure to be rediscovered.
